Other banks call working past 5pm overtime. We call it business as usual.

We get it. You run a business during normal business hours. That's why we have longer hours than any other bank, including weekends. So you can focus on running your business instead of running to the bank.

Most checking accounts come with a checkbook. Ours comes with a relationship.

What if you have a question or need some advice? Luckily, we have someone to help. We give you a dedicated Relationship Manager who knows you and your business—not just the numbers, but the people, too.
